

Richard Toye
Homerton College, Cambridge

EDUCATION

1996 -1999 CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY -- PhD in History (degree awarded 22 January 2000)

Thesis: "The Labour Party and the Planned Economy, 1931-1951"

British Academy Humanities Research Board 3 year studentship (Competition B)

1996 - 1999 BIRMINGHAM UNIVERSITY MPhil (by research) in History

Dissertation: "The Labour Party 1931-35"

British Academy Humanities Research Board 1 year studentship (Competition A)

1992 - 1995 BIRMINGHAM UNIVERSITY BA Honours in History (Medieval and Modern), Class I

Special Subject: "The Suez Crisis"

ACADEMIC AND RELATED EMPLOYMENT

2000 to date Hallsworth Research Fellow in Political Economy at the Department of History, University of Manchester

Current topic of research: Anglo-American trade negotiations in the 1940s, and the origins of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT)

1999 - 2000 United Nations Intellectual History Project administered by City University of New York

Research Assistant (part time)

co-authored forthcoming book

research trips to UN institutions in Geneva and New York, and Santiago de Chile

Jan-Sept 2000 BP History Project based at History Department, Cambridge University, U.K.

Research Assistant (part time)

2000 to date Tutor on "British Economic History 1880-1980", Dept of History, Manchester University

1999 - 2000 Supervisor for Part I of the Cambridge Historical Tripos: Paper 6 (British Constitutional and Political History since 1867), for Girton College and Trinity Hall, Cambridge University

1996 - 1999 Research Assistant on the official biography of Sir Stafford Cripps by Prof Peter Clarke, Cambridge

sourcing, sorting and listing items in the Cripps Papers collaboration with Prof Clarke on the New DNB entry on Cripps

1998 - 1999 Course organiser and lecturer in "British Politics from Gladstone to Chamberlain", at the University of East Anglia, for the spring semester 1999

1995 - 1996 Teaching Assistant in Twentieth Century European History, at the University of Birmingham

AWARDS AND PRIZES

2001 Harry S. Truman Library Institute Research grant of up to $1100, awarded by the Institute's Committee on Research, Scholarship and Academic Relations, to carry out research at the Truman Library, to be taken up in September 2001

1999 The Nicholas Mansergh Essay Prize - awarded by St. John's College, Cambridge for my essay on "International Planning"

1998 The Nicholas Mansergh Essay Prize - awarded by St. John's College, Cambridge for my essay on "Keynes, the Labour movement and How to Pay for the War"

1995 The Richard Shackleton Prize - awarded by the University of Birmingham History Faculty for an outstanding undergraduate dissertation (on Kingsley Martin's attitude to appeasement)

PUBLICATIONS

Books

Richard Toye, The Labour Party and the Planned Economy, 1931-1951, Royal Historical Society (Studies in History: New Series), 2003.

John Toye and Richard Toye, The UN and Global Political Economy: Trade, Finance and Development, Indiana University Press, forthcoming, 2004.

Richard Toye and Jamie Miller, Cripps Versus Clayton: Personality, Ideology and Interest in the Origins of the Modern World Trading System, Ashgate, forthcoming.

Richard Toye and Julie Gottlieb (eds.), Power, Personality and Persuasion: The Impact of the Individual in British Politics Since 1867, I.B. Tauris, forthcoming.

Articles

Richard Toye, 'Keynes, the Labour movement, and How to Pay for the War', Twentieth Century British History, 10 (1999) 255-81.

_____, 'The Labour Party's external economic policy in the 1940s', The Historical Journal, 43 (2000), 189-215.

_____, 'Gosplanners v. Thermostatters: Whitehall planning debates and their political impact, 1945-49', Contemporary British History 14 (Winter 2000), 81-106.

_____, 'The Labour Party and the economics of rearmament, 1935-1939', Twentieth Century British History, 12 (2001), 303-326.

_____, 'The New Commanding Height: Labour Party policy on North Sea oil and gas, 1964-74', Contemporary British History, 16 (Spring 2002), 89-118.

_____, 'The "gentleman in Whitehall" reconsidered: the evolution of Douglas Jay's views on economic planning and consumer choice, 1937-1947', Labour History Review, Vol. 67 no. 2, (Aug. 2002), 185-202. (A version of this article was originally published as University of Manchester Department of History working paper in economic and social history no. 49, June 2001.)

_____, 'The Attlee government, the imperial preference system, and the creation of the GATT', The English Historical Review, xcvi. 478 (Sept. 2003), 912-939, forthcoming.

_____, 'Developing Multilateralism: The Havana Charter and the Fight for the International Trade Organization, 1947-1948', International History Review, XXV:2, June 2003, 282-305.

_____, 'The forgotten revisionist: Douglas Jay and Britain's transition to affluence, 1951-64', in Lawrence Black and Hugh Pemberton (eds.), Affluent Britain?, Ashgate, forthcoming.

Jamie Miller and Richard Toye, 'Personality, Ideology and Interest in the Origins of the Modern World Trading System: The Case of Stafford Cripps and Will Clayton', in Frank Ninkovich et al (eds.), Global America, Imprint Publications, forthcoming.

Peter Clarke and Richard Toye, entry on 'Sir Stafford Cripps', in Colin Matthew and Brian Harrison (eds.), The New Dictionary of National Biography, Oxford University Press, forthcoming, 2004.

John Toye and Richard Toye, 'The origins and interpretation of the Prebisch-Singer thesis', History of Political Economy, 35:3, 2003, 437-467, forthcoming.

_____, 'The United Nations as a disseminator of economic ideas', in Martin Daunton and Frank Trentmann (eds.), Worlds of Political Economy, Palgrave, forthcoming.

_____, 'Raúl Prebisch and the limits of industrialization', in Edgar J. Dosman (ed.), Raúl Prebisch, Inter-American Development Bank, forthcoming.