

UN and Development: From Aid to Cooperation

Olav Stokke

Table of Contents

List of Illustrations

Series Editors' Foreword Louis Emmerij, Richard Jolly, and Thomas G. Weiss

Preface and Acknowledgements

List of Abbreviations

Introduction

Part I The Emergence of International Development Assistance

1. Pre-aid Traditions, Ideas, and the Institutional Heritage
2. The Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance
3. The UN Fund for Economic Development
4. First Steps Down the Road: What Can the Footprints Tell?

Part II The Formative Years

5. The First Development Decade: An Instrument of Persuasion?
6. The Second Development Decade
7. The United Nations Development Programme, 1966–1981
8. The World Food Programme, 1960–1981: Surplus Food for Development and Relief

Part III The Lost Decade and a New Beginning

9. The 1960s and 1970s: Perspectives on Developments
10. Visions and Priorities for the 1990s: The United Nations Strategy for the Fourth Development Decade
11. The Revival of the Social and Human Dimensions of Development
12. The UNDP, 1982-2005: Evolving Priorities, Patterns, and Trends
13. Food Aid: From Development to Humanitarian Relief
14. The Long Road Toward the Millennium Development Goals
15. The Contribution of the UN System to Development Cooperation

Notes

Index

About the Contributors

About the United Nations Intellectual History Project